

EB-1A Profile Building: NALA Certified Paralegal & EB-1A Recipient (Doctorate) – Attorney Supervised

"I handle drafting, formatting, and logistics. Attorney oversees legal strategy and filing."

Disclaimer: Paralegal provides document preparation and profile-building support under attorney supervision. Legal advice and final filing performed by licensed attorney.

What We Have Been Seeing

☹️ The old way:

- Months spent on irrelevant activities
- Targeting top journals from day one → rejections
- No continuous evidence collection → filing delays
- Lawyers only take cases 2–3 months before filing
- Result: sign with lawyer, get told you need 5–6+ more months

18 months wasted?

“Applicants think they are ready. They are not.”

Instead of That... Do This

Old loop:

- 1 Build profile alone (12–18 months)
- 2 Hire lawyer
- 3 Lawyer says “not ready”
- 4 Another 6–12 months

New model:

- 1 Day one: Paralegal support begins
- 2 Personalized roadmap + weekly updates
- 3 Evidence collected with your guidance
- 4 Attorney reviews periodically
- 5 Ready to file in 12–18 months

NALA Certified + EB-1A Recipient + Doctorate = Your Trusted Guide

My Role vs. Attorney Role – Clear Separation

What I (Paralegal) Do:

- Draft paper templates (you add findings)
- L^AT_EX & Word formatting
- Zotero citation management
- Journal selection & submission logistics
- Peer review draft templates
- Evidence organization & tracking
- Award nomination research
- Media outreach & tracking

What Attorney Does:

- All legal advice
- Legal strategy for EB-1A
- Final petition drafting
- Opinion letters
- Filing with USCIS
- Responding to RFEs
- Attorney-client agreement
- Final review & sign-off

I prepare. Attorney files. You succeed.

Your Role – Simple & Clear

You provide:

- Your raw expertise / findings / data
- Your experimental results
- Final approval on drafts

You review:

- Paper drafts (add your findings)
- Peer review drafts (add your insights)
- Monthly progress updates

You own the science.

"You are the expert. I handle the formatting, logistics, and drafting templates."

What You Will Not Have to Do – Ever

- Learn $\text{\LaTeX}$ or Word formatting
- Install or configure any software
- Learn Zotero or citation management
- Write 20–30 papers from scratch
- Draft peer reviews line-by-line
- Figure out journal submission portals
- Manage citations manually
- Find journals that accept your work
- Respond to reviewer comments alone
- Organize evidence for EB-1A

You focus on your research & findings.
I handle drafting templates — Attorney handles legal.

The Strategy – Build Momentum

📈 Why easy papers first?

- Build baseline publication count quickly
- Create momentum & confidence
- Establish “record of success” for later top journals
- Faster turnaround (weeks, not months)

⬆ Then climb the ladder:

- Conference proceedings → done
- Lower-tier journals → done
- Mid-tier journals → done
- Then top/high-ranked journals

“EB-1A doesn’t require all top journals. It requires volume + some recognition.”

18-Month Roadmap – Support Timeline

Month 0–2: Start Immediately

- Roadmap + gap analysis (day 1)
- No setup needed – you already have everything
- Start publications immediately
- First easy papers identified

Month 3–5: Easy Papers First

- Target conference proceedings + lower-tier journals
- I draft templates – you add findings
- Fast peer review – build baseline counts
- Get first 5–8 papers accepted quickly

Month 6–8: Scale Up & Peer Reviews

- Continue easy papers
- Start targeting mid-tier journals
- I draft peer review templates – you add insights
- Reference management fully handled

Month 9–11: Move to Higher-Ranked Journals

- Now target prestigious journals (after baseline)
- Use early publications as evidence of trajectory
- I handle complex submissions

Month 12–15: Judging & Top-Tier Push

- Peer review execution – 40–80 reviews (templates provided)
- Continue high-ranked journal submissions
- Award nomination research
- Media outreach tracking

Month 16–18: Filing Ready

- All evidence organized for attorney
- Mixed portfolio: easy + mid + high-ranked papers
- Attorney final review & filing

“First: easy wins. Then: top journals. Attorney files.”

Your Only Job – A Simple Checklist

- ✓ Provide your raw findings / experimental results
- ✓ Add your expertise to paper drafts
- ✓ Review & approve final drafts
- ✓ Attend monthly 15-min progress call
- ✓ Sign attorney-client agreement

That's it.

Paralegal handles drafting templates. Attorney handles legal filing.

Q&A & How to Start

What profile to build? → Roadmap answers that.
How is it built? → Paralegal drafts — Attorney oversees.
When ready to file? → After month 16–18, attorney confirms.

Next step:

- Limited spots available per year
- Sign attorney-client agreement
- Get roadmap → start immediately
